

Film Acting Coach Cathryn Sullivan & SR VP of CESD (LA/ NYC) Mitchell Gossett will be teaching a film acting workshop together, for Texas Actors Workshop in San Antonio. This special workshop will take place on the weekend of January 28-29th, 2017. Spots are available, now, on a first-come, first-serve basis.

*Everyone will attend Mitchell's lecture on film acting on Saturday, January 28th; and you'll work with Cathryn on both Saturday and Sunday on a scene that she'll choose for you. Mitchell will also join Cathryn's Sunday session, to help her work with actors there as well.

*Additionally, if you so choose, you can also prepare a scene in advance, to perform for Mitchell on Saturday, for which he can offer notes and/or redirect. None of our workshop participants are obligated to prepare a scene for Mitchell. However, if you choose to do so, it must be approved in advance.

*Because Tx Actors Workshop is making this invitation outside of our normal class schedule (Mondays/ Tuesdays), we would need to work with you on Thursdays, if you wish to prepare a scene for Mitchell. Again, there is NO obligation for any workshop participant to prepare a scene; this is just how we'll handle scene buff ups, if you happen to decide to participate AND prepare a scene in advance for Mitchell.

Two side notes related to scheduling: we'll be taking one week off for the Holidays (12/26-1/1/17), but will be back on Thursday, January 5th. Also, we want to be clear that no workshop participant is under any future obligation to take any classes with us after the workshop – this is just a one-time event.

The cost of the Gossett-Sullivan workshop is $395 until January 3rd; it then increases to $425. Registration closes January 9th.
