This is a great class for your child or young teen who wants to work on their on-camera skills or who is a theatre kid wanting to make the transition into commercials and television. We'll be working with scripts from actual commercials and film/TV. Each week I will email scripts before class. All classes will be held via Zoom. Ideally, your child can participate in a location with limited distractions. A video of all class performances will be available via DropBox each week.

Class size will be limited so reserve your spot now!
